

How To Get Started

You may be eligible for home health services under these conditions:

- ✓ A homebound criterion is usually required.
- ✓ The patient is under the care of physicians who manages and authorizes the need for services.
- ✓ The patient requires the skilled services of a registered nurse, physical therapist and/or speech therapist.

Qualifying For Home Care Services

To qualify for Medicaid home health services, three basic requirements:

1. Consumers enrolled in the program for the All-inclusive Care of the Elderly (PACE) must access home health services through PACE.
2. Consumers who have elected hospice care must access home health services through the hospice benefit.
3. Consumers enrolled in a Medicaid managed care plan must access home.

Who Pays For Home Health Care

If you are Medicaid eligible and qualified for care. There is no out of pocket cost to you. Home care can also be paid for by many private insurance or a variety of public programs.

These services can be paid for directly by insurance, community entitlement programs or by the patient and his or her family. Insurance companies have various eligibility and payment policies. We are always willing to help explore payment options. Because benefits and requirement can vary, we can help you check with payors about specific benefits, even before beginning service, so you can have this information.

What is Home Health Care?

Home health care assists a person in their recovery from an illness, accidents, surgery or change in their medical condition. Professional health care services are delivered in a person's home environment under the direction of their personal physician.

Why You May Need Home Health Care

- ✓ Frequent hospitalizations
- ✓ Frequent falls or near falls
- ✓ Problems with medication regimen
- ✓ Recent surgery or hospitalization
- ✓ Multiple health problems and/or new condition
- ✓ Multiple or no caregivers

Because it is not always clear to the average person when an ailing senior needs home health care and when he or she needs nursing home care, it is usually best to consult a medical professional for advice.

About Care For You Home Health

To provide Home Healthcare clients an extraordinary level of personalized and compassionate care. By improving quality of life for those we serve in the comfort of the patients and families home.

These are some of the ways we can help our home health care patients:

- ✓ Assisting patients with bathing and personal grooming (ADLS).
- ✓ Teaching patients & caregivers at home the proper techniques of how to use a wheelchair, walker or crutches.
- ✓ Giving injections ordered by the physician and teaching patients and family the proper techniques for doing it.

- ✓ Helping patients and their families to understand and follow physician's orders regarding nutrition, special diets, medications and general nursing care.
- ✓ Enabling the patient with ostomy how to resume a full, active life.
- ✓ Patient specific health data with observations by a professional nurse are reported to the physician.
